3. ACADEMIC CONTEXT

3.1. Course Description and Objectives

Business Administration and Management is described as follows in the curriculum descriptor: “Fundamentals of Business Administration & Management. Management processes, planning and control. Development of techniques. Organizational behavior and development.”

In accordance with this descriptor, this course in Management should include:

- Fundamentals of business management
- The functions administrators carry out within the management process framework;
- The techniques & methods supporting these functions

Therefore, the key objectives of the course are:

- Understand what a manager is and the role of management in organizations. Grasp the principal functions of what is termed the management process;
- Acquire a comprehensive view of the prevalent lines of thought in management research and literature;
- Observe management functions from the perspective of ethics and social responsibility;
- Understand the importance of the environment as a conditioning factor affecting management;
- Analyze the decision-making process and become familiar with the main support methods/models for this process;
- Learn what planning is and identify the fundamental features of strategic planning;
- Grasp the importance for management of the concept of organizational behavior: motivation, leadership, conflict mediation.

3.2. Contribution to the Training Plan

Business Administration and Management is the second course taken by students in the academic area of Business Organization. In this course is where students will be exposed to business fundamentals and will be taking an in-depth look at the four classic management functions (Planning, Organization, Leadership and Control), with particular attention to the Leading function. Other further courses in the degree will specialize in the three remaining key functions.

3.3. Recommendations or Prerequisites

Management covers fundamental concepts which will aid students in other courses offered in the Degree, making it especially recommendable for all students (hence its obligatory nature).

6. METHODOLOGY AND RESOURCES

This course in Management provides students with the opportunity to acquire key concepts that serve to help understand what an organization is and how it functions. To this end, the following learning scheme is followed:

General Theory / Background (Large Lecture Group)

This course is comprised of twentyone 1.5-hour sessions. Sessions consist in lectures given by the professor on general theory and background relating to different course topics, informative talks, etc.

Theory-into-Practice & Developmental Knowledge-Building (Small Groups)

A total of nine 1.5-hour seminars will be held throughout the course. These sessions are an arena in which students will work on solving real-life problems and cases having to do with the concepts covered in theory/praxis sessions. Professors will also assign group activities and assignments in these sessions. There will be opportunities for students to develop both theory and practical skills.

TOTAL NUMBER OF HOURS: 150 (6 ECTS CREDITS)

GROUP TYPE	HOURS PER STUDENT	CREDITS PER STUDENT
GENERAL TEACHING (GT)	31.50	1.30
PRACTICAL TEACHING (PT)	13.50	0.50
SELF-STUDY	90.00	3.60
ASSESSMENT AND GRADING	15.00	0.60
TOTAL	150.00	6.00

7. ASSESSMENT

The following factors will be taken into account when evaluating students:

- a) Participation in sessions on theory and praxis, as well as in seminars and on activities throughout the course.
- b) Assignments and/or papers assigned by professors to encourage in-depth knowledge building for given topics.
- c) Scores obtained on exams.

The final grade will be calculated according to the following formula: $0.7A + 0.3B = \text{FINAL GRADE}$

A) Exams (70%):

Students will take one exam—at the end of the course—. Students failing the exam at the end of the course will have the opportunity to take a final exam in the month of June.

A minimum score of 3 points (on a 10-pt.scale) is required in both theory and praxis in order to pass—even if the average of the two is 5 or higher.

Knowledge of fundamental theoretical concepts (40%) will be assessed via a 20 to 25-question multiple choice test. Assessment of praxis (30%) will consist in one or more cases.

B) Theory into Practice (30%):

Scores obtained on activities carried out and/or assigned in Theory into Practice sessions will be valid for the exams. Students who have not attended class sessions and/or not completed activities & assignments successfully will be evaluated out of a maximum of 70%, thus forfeiting any chance to obtain the remaining 30%.

Those students who cannot attend the seminars due to being abroad under official mobility programs (Sócrates-Erasmus, Séneca, Atlanticus...) will do an additional exam, or work that will be conveniently defined, in order to obtain that 30% of the grade. Such students must communicate this in writing to the lecturers of the module before November 30th (for the first term) or April 30th (for the second term). Students not fulfilling this deadline can only apply with the written support of the academic coordinator of their mobility contract.
