

Laura Gomez-Ruiz, short-biography

Laura is Associate Professor in the Finance and Accounting Department at Pablo de Olavide University since 2015: She also holds a management position in that institution and was appointed Executive Director of University Finance in 2021. Yet the year of 2009 represents the beginning of her academic career as Assistant Professor at Pablo de Olavide University. Four years later, in 2013, she successfully defended her PhD thesis “Design and Use of Management Control Systems in Team-Based Settings: Effects on Performance” and was awarded with Honors. In addition, she is a lecturer at the Escuela Superior de Hostelería de Sevilla (www.esh.es) since 1999 and teaches at a Masters Program at the Instituto de Estudios Cajasol since 2021. She is also involved as a senior consultant in strategic consulting and management control projects.

Laura's main research interests are on experimental methodology. Specifically, her research focuses on analyzing how accounting and control information influences agents decision-making and behavior in social dilemma situations within organizations. Currently, she is Principal Researcher of projects that deal with Management Control Systems (MCS) and Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) and leads the Project “The role of management control systems (MCS) in avoiding dysfunctional behaviors in the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) in organisations” (Convocatoria 2022 de Proyectos de Generación de Conocimiento).

Laura complements her research career with 4 research stays, 2 at Tilburg University (2011 and 2020-2021), one at Erasmus University in Rotterdam (2018) and the other at Universidad Privada Boliviana (2023). Those research stays have positively influenced her research mindset and contributed to nurture her research abilities.

She is a member of the LEXBE Laboratory (<https://www.upo.es/investiga/lexbe/>), which is the first experimental research laboratory with business orientation in the Region of Andalucía. Laura is also Member of the Scientific Committee of ENEAR (European Network for Experimental Accounting Research), Member of the Board at SABE (Society for Advancement of Behavioral Economics), EAA (European Accounting Association) and Colegio de Economistas de Sevilla (<https://economistas-sevilla.com/>). She served as Treasurer of EURHODIP association for three years under the presidency of Luis Lezama.

Prior to her academic career, Laura worked in the private sector between 1995 and 2008 where she developed her professional career in Human Resources consulting with HAY Group and Banking in Central Services of ARGENTARIA, and Tourism where she was Vice President of the Hotel and Business Association of Sevilla.
